INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Broadleaf Capital Partners, Inc. and Subsidiaries
Board of Directors
San Jacinto, California

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Broadleaf Capital Partners, Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, including the consolidated schedules of investments as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the related consolidated statements of operations, changes in shareholders' equity, and cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001, and 2000. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As explained in Notes 4 and 6, "investments" and "other investments" consist of loans to and investments in small businesses and limited partnerships totaling $937,424 (97% of total assets) and $1,038,856 (89% of total assets) as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The values of these investments have been estimated by the Board of Directors in the absence of readily ascertainable market values. However, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, the Board of Directors' estimate of values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for the investments existed, and the differences could be material.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Broadleaf Capital Partners, Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the consolidated results of their operations and their cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001, and 2000 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company has a significant deficit in working capital, has a deficit in stockholders' equity and has suffered recurring losses to date, which raises substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans with regard to these matters are also described in Note 2. The consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

In January 2000, the Company acquired an 85% ownership interest for $50,000 cash in Orange County Soccer Development Corporation (Orange). The investment was recorded as a purchase. At December 31, 2001, Orange discontinued operations (Note 15).

In February 2000, the Company acquired an 85% ownership interest for $100,000 cash in Bay Area Soccer Development Corporation (Bay Area). The investment was recorded as a purchase. At December 31, 2001, Bay Area discontinued its operations (Note 15).

In February 2000, the Company acquired a 53% ownership interest in Riverside County Soccer Development Corporation (Riverside) for $6,000. The investment was recorded as a purchase. At December 31, 2001, Riverside discontinued its operations (Note 15).

Broadleaf holds a 51% interest in iNet as of December 31, 2001. iNet was organized under the laws of the State of California on December 15, 1999 with the intent to develop Internet e-commerce applications for both the new and used automotive markets. As of December 31, 2001, iNet had no significant operations.

Broadleaf's remaining subsidiaries, BAM, BFS, and Brand, were all incorporated in 2001. These subsidiaries have had no operations to date, but were formed with the intent to help forward the Company's business strategy in 2002.

On September 15, 1998, the Company filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission to become a Business Development Corporation as defined under the Investment Act of 1940. Simultaneously, the Company registered an offering circular with the SEC for 13,000,000 shares of common stock under Regulation E of the Investment Act to raise capital and to make investments in real estate and in eligible portfolio companies. The Company participates in the formation of, and invests in, emerging or early-stage companies in various fields of business by arranging for and contributing capital and providing management assistance.

NOTE 2 - GOING CONCERN

As reported in the consolidated financial statements, the Company has an accumulated deficit of $16,276,919 and $15,623,929 as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The Company incurred losses of $652,990 and $3,655,086 for the years ended December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The Company also has certain debts that are in default at December 31, 2002. The Company's stockholders' deficit at December 31, 2002 and 2001 was $3,453,252 and $3,660,822, respectively, and its current liabilities exceeded its current assets by $3,599,775 and $4,003,229, respectively.

These factors create uncertainty about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent on the Company obtaining adequate capital to fund operating losses until it becomes profitable. If the Company is unable to obtain adequate capital it could be forced to cease operations.

In order to continue as a going concern, develop and generate revenues and achieve a profitable level of operations, the Company will need, among other things, additional capital resources. Management's plans to obtain such resources for the Company include (1) raising additional capital through sales of common stock, (2) converting promissory notes into common stock and (3) entering into acquisition agreements with profitable entities with significant operations. In addition, management is continually seeking to streamline its operations and expand the business through a variety of industries, including real estate and financial management. However, management cannot provide any assurances that the Company will be successful in accomplishing any of its plans.

The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to successfully accomplish the plans described in the preceding paragraph and eventually secure other sources of financing and attain profitable operations. The accompanying consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 3 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A summary of the significant accounting policies consistently applied in the preparation of the accompanying consolidated financial statements follows:

a. Accounting Method

Broadleaf Capital Partners, Inc. (the Company) is a closed-end management investment company organized as a Nevada corporation. The Company has elected to be regulated as a business development company under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the 1940 Act).

Although business development companies should prepare their financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and are subject to audit as are other investment companies, the statement presentation of some companies may need to be tailored to present the information in a manner most meaningful to their particular group of investors. Since debt is a significant item, the Company concluded that a balance sheet would be more appropriate than a statement of net assets. Also, the Company believes Article 5 of Regulation S-X applies.

b. Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are recorded at cost. Major additions and improvement are capitalized. The cost and related accumulated depreciation of equipment retired or sold are removed from the accounts and any differences between the undepreciated amount and the proceeds from the sale are recorded as gain or loss on sale of assets. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the assets as follows:

Description	Estimated Useful Life
Furniture and fixtures	5 to 7 years
Computers and software	5 years
Automobiles	5 years

c. Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share

	2002	2001
Loss (numerator)	$ (652,990)	$(3,655,086)
Shares (denominator)	17,657,498	1,313,955
Per share amount	$ (0.04)	$ (2.78)

The computations of basic loss per share of common stock are based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period of the consolidated financial statements. Common stock equivalents, consisting of convertible debt and preferred shares, have not been included in the calculation as their effect is antidilutive for the periods presented.

d. Change in Accounting Principles

In April 2002, the FASB issued Statement No. 145 "Rescission of FASB Statements No. 4, 44, and 62, Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13, and Technical Corrections" (SFAS 145). SFAS 145 will require gains and losses on extinguishments of debt to be classified as income or loss from continuing operations rather than as extraordinary items as previously required under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 4 (SFAS 4). Extraordinary treatment will be required for certain extinguishments as provided in APB Opinion No. 30. SFAS 145 also amends Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 13 to require certain modifications to capital leases be treated as a sale-leaseback and modifies the accounting for sub-leases when the original lessee remains a secondary obligor (or guarantor). SFAS 145 is effective for financial statements issued after May 15, 2002, and with respect to the impact of the reporting requirements of changes made to SFAS 4 for fiscal years beginning after May 15, 2002. The adoption of the applicable provisions of SFAS 145 did not have an effect on our consolidated financial statements.

In June 2002, the FASB issued Statement No. 146, "Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities." SFAS 146 nullifies Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 94-3 "Liability Recognition for Certain Employee Termination Benefits and Other Costs to Exit an Activity (including Certain Costs Incurred in a Restructuring)." SFAS 146 applies to costs associated with an exit activity that does not involve an entity newly acquired in a business combination or with a disposal activity covered by SFAS 144. SFAS 146 is effective for exit or disposal activities that are initiated after December 31, 2002, with earlier application encouraged. We are currently reviewing SFAS 146 and intend to implement it no later than January 1, 2003.

In October 2002, the FASB issued Statement No. 147 "Acquisitions of Certain Financial Institutions - an amendment of FASB Statements No. 72 and 144 and FASB Interpretation No. 9" (SFAS 147). SFAS 147 removes acquisitions of financial institutions from the scope of both Statement 72 and Interpretation 9 and requires that those transactions be accounted for in accordance with FASB Statements No. 141, Business Combinations, and No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Thus, the requirement in paragraph 5 of Statement 72 to recognize (and subsequently amortize) any excess of the fair value of liabilities assumed over the fair value of tangible and identifiable intangible assets acquired as an unidentifiable intangible asset no longer applies to acquisitions within the scope of this Statement. In addition, this Statement amends FASB Statement No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, to include in its scope long-term customer-relationship intangible assets of financial institutions such as depositor- and borrower-relationship intangible assets and credit cardholder intangible assets. Consequently, those intangible assets are subject to the same undiscounted cash flow recoverability test and impairment loss recognition and measurement provisions that Statement 144 requires for other long-lived assets that are held and used. SFAS 147 is effective October 1, 2002. The adoption of the applicable provisions of SFAS 147 did not have an effect on our consolidated financial statements.

In December 2002, the FASB issued Statement No. 148 "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation - Transition and Disclosure - an amendment of FASB Statement No. 123" (SFAS 148). SFAS 148 provides alternate methods of transition for a voluntary change to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. In addition, this Statement amends the disclosure requirements of Statement 123 to require prominent disclosures in both annual and interim financial statements about the method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation and the effect of the method used on reporting results. SFAS 148 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2003. We are currently reviewing SFAS 148.

e. Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include those of Broadleaf Capital Partners, Inc., a Nevada corporation, and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, Peacock Real Estate Development Corporation (California) (PREDC), Peacock International Corporation (Bahamas) (PIC), DotCom Ventures, LLC (DotCom), Peacock Sports, Inc. (PSI), Broadleaf Asset Management (BAM), Broadleaf Financial Services (BFS), and Brand Asset Management (Brand). They also include the majority owned subsidiaries, Bay Area Soccer Development Corporation (Bay Area) (80%), Orange County Soccer Development Corporation (Orange) (85%), Riverside County Soccer Development Corporation (Riverside) (53%), and iNet Partners, Inc. (iNet) (51%). All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

f. Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

g. Provision for Taxes

Deferred taxes are provided on a liability method whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment.

Net deferred tax assets consist of the following components as of December 31, 2002 and 2001:

December 31

	2002	2001
Deferred tax assets:
NOL Carryover	$ 6,316,700	$4,610,850
Deferred tax liabilities:
Related Party	(331,100)	-
Valuation allowance	(5,985,600)	(4,610,850)
Net deferred tax asset	$ -	$ -

The income tax provision differs from the amount of income tax determined by applying the U.S. federal income tax rate to pretax income from continuing operations for the years ended December 31, 2002 and 2001 due to the following:

	December 31
	2002	2001
Book loss	$ 225,625	$1,334,853
Stock for services/options expense	(8,480)	-
Other	18,295	(395,774)
Judgments	(18,190)	(747,282)
Related Parties	8,650	(129,107)
Valuation allowance	(225,900)	(62,690)

At December 31, 2002, the Company had net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $16,202,000 that may be offset against future taxable income from the year 2002 through 2022. No tax benefit has been reported in the December 31, 2002 financial statements since the potential tax benefit is offset by a valuation allowance of the same amount.

Due to the change in ownership provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, net operating loss carryforwards for Federal income tax reporting purposes are subject to annual limitations. Should a change in ownership occur, net operating loss carryforwards may be limited as to use in future years.

h. Advertising

The Company follows the policy of charging the costs of advertising to expense as incurred.

i. Revenue Recognition

The Company receives shares in certain companies for providing capital and investment services. The Company records management consulting income based on the fair value of the shares received.

j. Accounts and Notes Receivable

Accounts and notes receivable are shown net of an allowance for doubtful accounts of $2,075,798 and $2,068,387 as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

k. Investment Valuation

The Company's loans, net of participations and any unearned discount, are considered investments under the 1940 Act and are recorded at fair value. Since no ready market exists for these loans, the fair value is determined in good faith by the Board of Directors. In determining the fair value, the Company and Board of Directors consider factors such as the financial condition of the borrower, the adequacy of the collateral and individual credit risks.

Investments in equity securities are recorded at fair value, represented as cost, plus or minus unrealized appreciation or depreciation, respectively. The carrying values of investments that have no readily-determinable market values are determined by the Board of Directors, based upon its analysis of the assets and revenues of the underlying investee companies.

Because of the inherent uncertainty of valuations, the Board of Directors' estimates of the values of the investments may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for the investments existed and the differences could be material.

l. Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications have been made to prior year balances to conform with the current year presentation.

m. Restricted Securities

All investments in securities are restricted shares, and have been valued by the Board of Directors. In determining investment values, the Board considers many pertinent factors, including the results of operations of each company.

NOTE 4 - INVESTMENTS IN LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS

During 1987, the Company formed a limited partnership agreement where the Company is the general partner, holding a 15% interest. The partnership was formed to acquire and develop approximately 500 acres of land in San Jacinto, California. The general partner was not required to make an initial capital contribution, thus the initial investment was recorded at $0. The Board of Directors has determined that this investment is unlikely to produce income in the near future, and has valued the investment at $0 as of December 31, 2002.

On June 29, 1992, the Company acquired an interest in a limited partnership. The partnership intends to seek out and consummate certain real-estate investment opportunities. The Company acts as the general partner and holds a 1% interest in the partnership. As of December 31, 2001, the Company had recognized no income or losses from its investment in this partnership. The Board of Directors has determined that this investment is unlikely to produce income and has valued the investment at $0 as of December 31, 2002 and 2001.

In December 1995, the Company acquired an interest in a limited liability company. The LLC's intent is to acquire and develop certain residential subdivisions. The Company retains a 50% ownership in the limited liability company. The Company's Board of Directors determined this investment was unlikely to produce income in the near future, and has valued the investment at $0 at December 31, 2002 and 2001.

During 1995, the Company received a $975,000 loan that converted to a grant from the City of Riverside to acquire and rehabilitate a 120-unit apartment complex (see Note 12). During April 1996, the Company was awarded $2,400,000 in Federal tax credits relating to this project. During December 1996, the Company sold the completed project to a tax credit partnership named Canyon Shadows, L.P., retaining a 1% interest as general partner, and receiving a $905,000 capital account in the partnership. During 1999, a $70,000 note held by the Company was transferred to Canyon Shadows, L.P., which was recorded as a capital distribution to the Company (see Note 12). Additional costs were incurred by the Company on behalf of the partnership resulting in a total investment in Canyon Shadows, L.P. of $1,131,961 at December 31, 2000. The Company's Board of Directors determined that the value of this investment approximated the current interest in the partnership. The valuation was based upon projected future occupancy of the apartment unit. In 2002, Canyon Shadows distributed $101,422 to the Company, leaving a balance of $937,424 at December 31, 2002.

The Company's Board of Directors determined the approximate value of this investment at December 31, 2000 to be $83,487. As part of the agreement, the Company received 800,000 shares of Solutions as an investment fee valued at $400,000. The 800,000 shares of Solutions represented an approximate ownership of 2% at December 31, 1999. These amounts totaled $212,922 at December 31, 2001 and, due to the uncertainty of collection, these amounts have been allowed for in full, bringing the net amount to $0 and $0 at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

NOTE 9 - PROFIT SHARING PLAN

In 1989, the Company adopted a profit sharing plan covering all eligible employees. Contributions are made at the discretion of the Board of Directors. There were no contributions to the plan for the years ended December 31, 2002 and 2001.

NOTE 10 -COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

a. General Partner Obligations

The Company serves as general partner in several real estate development partnerships. The Company may be held liable for certain liabilities, although because the amounts are minimal and the entities are limited liability companies, management does not feel that the potential liabilities will have a material impact on the Company.

b. Wrap Around Mortgage

The Company has sold a property subject to a mortgage. The mortgage has not been fully assumed by the buyer. If the buyer defaults on the mortgage, the Company may be liable for the balance owing.

c. Housing Grant

In April 1995, the Company acquired a 120-unit apartment complex using a $975,000 loan that was converted to a grant from the City of Riverside, California. The loan is non-recourse and is secured by a second trust deed on the property. If the Company meets certain requirements pertaining to the complex, which have been stipulated by the city, the loan will be forgiven in its entirety. As of December 31, 2002, management has complied with all of the requirements and believes that the repayment of $905,000 (the grant portion) of the $975,000 is highly remote.

d. Litigation

At December 31, 2002, the Company was party to certain legal proceedings, resulting in judgments payable totaling $2,083,300. The following is a summary of those payables:

During the year, Bank of Hemet received a legal judgment against the Company totaling $932,006. In 2000, however, the Company had negotiated a settlement in this case for $100,000, and booked this amount as a contingent liability at December 31, 2000. In 2001, the Company defaulted on this settlement. As a result, during 2001, the Company recorded the full amount of the judgment, less payments made by the Company to Bank of Hemet. On November 20, 2002, the Company negotiated another settlement on this amount totaling $280,000, payable from proceeds from the Canyon Shadows investment. During 2002, the contingency was recorded at this amount plus interest imputed at an annual rate of 8%. At December 31, 2002, this liability is recorded at $269,535.

In 2000, a non-related individual filed suit against the Company. Later that year, management negotiated a settlement with this individual totaling $250,000, and the amount was recorded as a contingent liability at December 31, 2000. In 2001 the Company defaulted on the settlement agreement. As a result, during 2001, the Company recorded the full amount of the alleged damages, less payments made by the Company to the individual. On May 21, 2002, the Company negotiated another settlement with this individual totaling $125,000 payable in cash payments and a convertible debenture. Subsequent to May 2002, the Company defaulted on this settlement agreement. As a result, in the current year, the Company recorded the full amount of the alleged damages, less payments made by the Company to the individual, plus interest imputed at an annual rate of 8%. At December 31, 2002, this liability is recorded at $1,238,785.

In 2001, 1st Miracle Group, Inc. received a legal judgment against the Company totaling $100,000. Management was able to negotiate a settlement on this amount, totaling $20,000. At December 31, 2002, the liability is recorded at the settled amount, plus accrued interest imputed at 8% annually totaling $21,600.

In 2001, AMG Consulting brought legal action against the Company, seeking damages of $21,012. Management is currently attempting to negotiate a settlement on this amount. At December 31, 2002, this contingent liability is recorded at the full amount plus accrued interest imputed at 8% annually totaling $23,566.

In 2002, a former employee received a legal judgment against the Company totaling $20,110. At December 31, 2002, this liability is recorded at the settled amount plus accrued interest imputed at 8% annually totaling $21,316.

e. Employment Agreements

In December 2001, the Company entered into employment agreements with its CEO and CFO. Both agreements cover a period of 24 months, and compensation totals $250,000 and $100,000 annually, respectively. In addition, the parties were each to receive 250,000 shares of the Company's common stock, and options to acquire 750 and 500 shares at a strike price equal to market price on date of issuance.

As of December 31, 2002, the shares of common stock had not been issued. The stock options have been included in the disclosure in Note 19.

a. Off Balance Sheet Risk

The Company is a guarantor on a lease on a house for a related party. The lease began December 2002 and extends through December 2003, with monthly payments of $2,900.

NOTE 11 -PREFERRED STOCK

The Company's preferred stock has the right to quarterly dividends to be paid at the annual rate of 6%. The quarterly dividend is to be paid to all shareholders of record, as of the last day of each quarter until such time as the Company causes such shares to be converted to common shares and "registered" (free trading) with the S.E.C. and the appropriate State regulatory agency.

Each preferred share is convertible into one share of the common stock of the Company, such conversion to occur automatically and registered concurrently with any public offering of the common shares of the Company.

NOTE 12 -STOCK SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVABLE

During 1999, the Company issued a total of 27,330 shares of its outstanding common stock for $443,500 under stock subscription notes receivable. These notes were non-interest bearing. During 1999, $116,445 of the amount was received. During 2000, the Company issued additional shares of common stock under promissory notes totaling $158,001 for 223,308 shares. These notes are also non-interest bearing. During 2000, an additional $199,000 was received by the Company pursuant to these subscription notes receivable. The total amount of stock subscriptions receivable at December 31, 2000 was $286,056. In 2001, 210,750 shares were issued for subscriptions receivable of $88,737. The Company received cash on these amounts totaling $27,455. Total stock subscriptions receivable at December 31, 2001 was $347,338. In 2002, $10,068 of this amount was received. In addition, $200,500 was exchanged for debt and additional shares were issued for $21,000. At December 31, 2002 the remaining $157,770 was determined to be uncollectible and a allowance was established.

NOTE 13 -SEGMENT INFORMATION

The Company's reportable segments are strategic business units that offer different products and services. They are managed separately because each business requires different technology and marketing strategies.

The Company had three separate reportable segments during the year ended December 31, 2000, management consulting, website development and soccer franchises. As discussed in Note 14, the soccer subsidiaries were discontinued as of December 31, 2000. The remaining two segments will be the Company's focus in the future. The accounting policies applied to determine the segment information are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies.

Financial information with respect to the reportable segments are as follows:

NOTE 14 -INVESTMENTS AND INVESTMENT VALUATION

On September 15, 1998, the Company filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission to become a Business Development Corporation as defined under the Investment Act of 1940 in order to invest in real estate and eligible portfolio companies. This resulted in the Company becoming a specialized type of investment company.

The investment valuation method adopted in 1982 provides for the Company's Board of Directors to be responsible for the valuation of the Company's investments (and all other assets). In the development of the Company's valuation methods, factors that affect the value of investees' securities, such as significant escrow provisions, trading volume and significant business changes are taken into account. These investments are carried at fair value using the following four basic methods of evaluation:

a. Cost - The cost method is based on the original cost to the Company, adjusted for amortization of original issue discounts and accrued interest for certain capitalized expenditures of the corporation. Such method is to be applied in the early stages of an investee's development until significant positive or adverse events subsequent to the date of the original investment require a change to another method.

b. Private market - The private market method uses actual or proposed third party transactions in the investee's securities as a basis for valuation, utilizing actual firm offers as well as historical transactions, provided that any offer used is seriously considered and well documented by the investee.

c. Public market - The public market method is the preferred method of valuation when there is an established public market for the investee's securities. In determining whether the public market method is sufficiently established for valuation purposes, the corporation is directed to examine the trading volume, the number of shareholders and the number of market makers in the investee's securities, along with the trend in trading volume as compared to the Company's proportionate share of the investee's securities. If the security is restricted, the value is discounted at an appropriate rate.

d. Appraisal - The appraisal method is used to value an investment position after analysis of the best available outside information where there is no established public or private market method which have restrictions as to their resale as denoted in the schedule of investments are also considered to be restricted securities.

All portfolio securities valued by the cost, private market and appraisal methods are considered to be restricted as to their disposition. In addition, certain securities valued by the public market method which have restrictions as to their resale as denoted in the schedule of investments are also considered to be restricted securities.

ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION

The first quarter of 2003 marked the continuance of assessing and consolidating the Company's previous investments and operations.

Results of Operations - Three months ended March 31, 2003, compared to the three months ended March 31, 2002.

Revenues. Revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2003 decreased by $30,902 or 94% to $1,900 from $32,802 for the three months ended March 31, 2002. This decrease was primarily due to the absence of development income.

Expenses. Expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2003 decreased by $188,724 or 46% to $226,110 from $415,134 for the three months ended March 31, 2002. General and administrative expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2003 decreased by $64,699 or 24% to $211,470 from $276,169. This decrease was primarily due to a reduction in operations.

Changes in Financial Condition, Liquidity and Capital Resource.

For the three months ended March 31, 2003, the Company funded its operations and capital requirements partially with its own working capital and partially with proceeds from stock offerings. As of March 31, 2003, the Company had cash of $877.

Forward-Looking Statements

This Form 10-QSB includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. All statements, other than statements of historical facts, included or incorporated by reference in this Form 10-QSB which address activities, events or developments which the Company expects or anticipates will or may occur in the future, including such things as future capital expenditures (including the amount and nature thereof), finding suitable merger or acquisition candidates, expansion and growth of the Company's business and operations, and other such matters are forward-looking statements.

These statements are based on certain assumptions and analyses made by the Company in light of its experience and its perception of historical trends, current conditions and expected future developments as well as other factors it believes are appropriate in the circumstances. However, whether actual results or developments will conform with the Company's expectations and predictions is subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, general economic market and business conditions; the business opportunities (or lack thereof) that may be presented to and pursued by the Company; changes in laws or regulation; and other factors, most of which are beyond the control of the Company.

This Form10-QSB contains statements that constitute "forward-looking statements." These forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of predictive, future-tense or forward-looking terminology, such as "believes," "anticipates," "expects," "estimates," "plans," "may," "will," or similar terms. These statements appear in a number of places in this Registration and include statements regarding the intent, belief or current expectations of the Company, its directors or its officers with respect to, among other things: (i) trends affecting the Company's financial condition or results of operations for its limited history; (ii) the Company's business and growth strategies; (iii) the Internet and Internet commerce; and, (iv) the Company's financing plans. Investors are cautioned that any such forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve significant risks and uncertainties, and that actual results may differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements as a result of various factors. Factors that could adversely affect actual results and performance include, among others, the Company's limited operating history, dependence on continued growth in the use of the Internet, the Company's inexperience with the Internet, potential fluctuations in quarterly operating results and expenses, security risks of transmitting information over the Internet, government regulation, technological change and competition.

Consequently, all of the forward-looking statements made in this Form 10-QSB are qualified by these cautionary statements and there can be no assurance that the actual results or developments anticipated by the Company will be realized or, even if substantially realized, that they will have the expected consequence to or effects on the Company or its business or operations. The Company assumes no obligations to update any such forward-looking statements.
